

The Tamboran David Falvey Scholarship

Application Form

Supporting the next generation of Territory scientists

1. About the Scholarship

Dave Falvey, Co-Founder of Tamboran Resources, was a distinguished geoscientist, lifelong learner and person of remarkably wide-ranging knowledge and interests. His foresight, intellectual curiosity and adventurous spirit helped shape Tamboran from its earliest beginnings — it was his inquisitive approach, applied to Australia's geology, that helped him recognise the world-class potential of the Beetaloo Basin. Dave believed passionately in the transformative power of education. The Tamboran David Falvey Scholarship honours his legacy by supporting curious, adventurous and community-minded Northern Territory students to pursue education in science, technology, engineering and mathematics.

5. Essay (500–750 words)

Question: Reflecting on your connection to the Northern Territory, the ways you contribute to your community, and the values that guide you, tell us why you should be awarded the Tamboran David Falvey Scholarship. In your response, please address: (1) your connection to the NT and how you hope to contribute to the Territory's future; (2) examples of how you have contributed to your community, school or peers; and (3) how your personal values align with Tamboran's values of integrity, respect, safety, community and sustainability.

You may type your essay directly into the box below, or write "see attached" and include it as a separate typed document with your application. If you need more space, continue in the Essay Appendix (page 5); the total must stay within 750 words.

11. Privacy Collection Notice

Tamboran Resources ("Tamboran") collects personal information in this form — including information about you and, where relevant, your parent or guardian and your referees — to assess your application for the David Falvey Scholarship, to administer the scholarship if awarded, and for Tamboran's related community-investment reporting. Tamboran may disclose your information to members of the scholarship selection panel, and (with your consent) to your school, referees or institution to verify details provided in this application. Your information will not otherwise be disclosed to third parties except where required by law. Your information is stored securely and retained only for as long as reasonably necessary for these purposes or otherwise as required by law. If you are shortlisted or awarded the scholarship, Tamboran may use your name, course, institution and photograph in Tamboran and community communications, with your (or your parent/guardian's) consent as given above. You may request access to, or correction of, your personal information by contacting Tamboran using the contact details in Section 12. Unsuccessful applications will be retained for 12 months, then securely destroyed.
